Cari Ahlers-Schmidt, PhD, elected to pediatric research society

WICHITA, KAN. – KU School of Medicine–Wichita assistant research professor Cari Ahlers-Schmidt, PhD, was recently elected to the Society for Pediatric Research.

The organization’s mission is to foster the research and career development of investigators engaged in creating new knowledge that advances the health and well-being of children and youth.

Dr. Ahlers-Schmidt received her doctorate in community psychology and master’s degree in community-clinical psychology from Wichita State University. She has taught several courses at WSU and has worked as an independent consultant in research and statistical measures.

The KU School of Medicine–Wichita educates doctors for Kansas while improving the health of Kansans through research and innovation.
